GET ON THE RIGHT TRACK IN KAUNERTAL!

Friends of Nordic sports can enjoy over 25 km of cross-country trails in the Kaunertal valley - 25 km of which are suitable for "skaters" and 2 km of which are barrier free (handicap accessible). Kaunertal offers cross-country ski trails in the valley as well as the Hubertus high-elevation trail at the Nature Park House Gachenblick. # Cultural heritage & sightseeing

Web

You don't have to ski to have a great time in the Nature Park & Glacier Region Kaunertal, and "boring" is not part of our vocabulary. The challenge would rather be whether you have enough time to see everything during one stay. Our region is simply a great place to be for families with children.

Berneck fortress in Kauns

The fortress of Berneck stands proudly 130 m above the entrance to Kaunertal valley. First documentations date back to the year 1225, and historians assume that the fortress' original function was to guard transit routes. At the end of the Middle Ages it fell into ruins, but has recently been restored with much care.

Schlosshäuser (castle houses), Kauns

Three old and beautifully decorated farmhouses that once belonged to the Berneck Fortress, the so-called "Schlosshäuser," are located in Kauns. Today, the three castle houses are in private ownership and local farming families live here. The history of Kaiser Maximilian can be recognised from the paintings on the exterior.

JOINT VENTURE POWER PLANT INN

In the Swiss-Austrian border region, the Inn joint venture power plant (GKI) is the largest run-of-river power plant currently under construction in the Alpine region. Following the six-year construction phase (2014 - 2020), the power plant, which has been comprehensively tested in Austria and Switzerland, generates over 400 gigawatt hours (GWh) of electricity annually from domestic hydropower. GKI GmbH (TIWAG 86% and Engadiner Kraftwerke AG 14%) is investing around EUR 604 million in the construction of the Inn joint venture power plant.

 Overview graphic

The largely invisible power station, which is mainly built underground, extends from the Martina district in the Swiss municipality of Valsot over the area of seven municipalities in the Higher Court of Tyrol. The Inn joint venture power plant essentially consists of three elements: Storage space and weir system, water tunnel and power house. In the border area between Martina and Nauders, the weir with a 15 m high weir to the water intake is being built. Up to 75 m<sup>3</sup>/s of the dammed water is fed into the 23.2 km long drive water tunnel,

 Powerhouse and underwater channel in Prutz which leads to the turbines in the power house in Prutz/Ried. Two Francis turbine sets with a combined output of 89 MW generate environmentally friendly electricity there. The processed water then flows back into the Inn through an underground canal.

The implementation of the GKI and the resulting surge reduction is accompanied by an improvement in the ecological condition of the Inn and its banks. Additional compensatory measures and recultivation will further improve the ecological quality of the river. In general, all areas used are planted, planted or afforested after completion of the work.

The planting of high-trunk fruit trees - predominantly old varieties - is planned especially for this purpose in the area of the power house. In the entrance area pear trees are planted and on the north side of the powerhouse plum trees are planted. Apple trees are planned at the access road and in the area of the power house.
